Trade Credit Partnership in Emerging Markets

Trade Credit Partnership Scheme is the first bespoke trade credit partnership scheme in emerging markets offered by Peak Re. It empowers medium-sized local insurers in emerging markets by making it easier to do business in the local emerging market for delivering better and more holistic service to their customers.

Trade credit insurance is not easily available in emerging insurance markets, knowledge transfer is also not available for medium-sized local insurers. Peak Re understood their pain points and was able to build and rolled out a scheme to facilitate the development of trade credit insurance in this market, by partnering with clients and a specialised FinTech solution provider to develop a business solution that paves the way for a new trade credit ecosystem.

Peak Re bring benefits to the local community and insurers, and created sustainable value for the future.
